Sense of Humor Membership Roll

We the undersigned think that political correctness in the workplace is ridiculous and has gone too far. We LIKE humor and fun in the workplace and feel that current laws legislate to a level that most humor can't be shared with co-workers. We hereby state our course of action won't be to sue anyone for saying or emailing anything that might be construed to be sexual, sexist, racist, foul, prejudiced, or otherwise "offensive". We agree that if anyone sexually harasses us, verbally abuses us, or otherwise "hurts our feelings" that we will deal with situation rationally and simply by telling the other person their words, emails, or actions were hurtful and unacceptable. We expect the other party will apologize and stop the behavior and that will be the end of it. I also hereby agree to be on the Email humor list with the understanding that the material I receive WILL have some or all of the elements described above. I agree to hold the company and my co-workers harmless for all material sent and I understand I can be removed from the email list at any time if I find the material offensive.
